

Among the Hills

Life in the Welsh countryside

ABOUT ME

Hello! My name is Rachel and I blog at Among the Hills. My blog was rebranded from Coffee Cake Kids in summer 2026, when we moved to our beautiful home in the Welsh countryside. I've been blogging since November 2013, when I left my job as a primary school teacher to bring up our four children - Harrison, Alexander, Benjamin, and Elizabeth. We are Brummies by birth but moved to the very beautiful North Wales coast in October 2016. I am a freelance content writer with extensive knowledge in SEO. I home educate my eldest son, Harrison.

Reviews – We love to review products that fit in with us, our lifestyle and our home. Reviews are in depth, with multiple images and the odd video, showing the product 'in action'.

Competitions – I love hosting competitions! I try to help promote your own social media channels through entry options and use Rafflecopter to manage entries. Competitions need to be accompanied by a review or sponsored post fees apply.

Sponsored/Guest Posts – I am happy to accept any collaborative posts, including sponsored posts, guest posts and infographics. Please contact me to discuss fees.
